EDITOR'S FOREWORD

IT IS OUR PURPOSE THAT THIS BOOK SHALL REFLECT THE PROGRESS OF A GREATER WESLEYAN. DURING THE YEARS SINCE THE FIRST WESLEYAN ANNUAL, COLLEGE LIFE HAS CHANGED AS MUCH AS THE FORM OF THE PUBLICATION. TO SHOW THIS CHANGE IS NO SMALL TASK; BUT IF WE SHALL HAVE SUCCEEDED IN GIVING AT LEAST A SUGGESTION OF THE WESLEYAN OF TODAY, WE SHALL BE CONTENT.

TO NEBRASKA METHODISTS

WHOSE BROAD VISION,
NOBLE SERVICE AND
LOVING SACRIFICE
HAS MADE OUR SCHOOL POSSIBLE, WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK.

College Days

O college days--where life is new,
Where honor's strong and friends are true,
Where dreams tower high and then come true,
Sweet college days, O, here's to you!

O Wesleyan--thy name we crown,
Long wave the yellow and the brown,
E'er to thy name may we be true!
Our Wesleyan, O, here's to you!

Post Graduate Students

Nebraska Wesleyan University has two candidates for post-graduate degrees in June. Mrs. Minnie Kline Meyers, A. B. Baker University, 1911, is a candidate for the Master's degree, her thesis being "Child Labor in the United States." Miss Neva-Rae Russell, A. B. Nebraska Wesleyan University 1916, is also a candidate for the Master's degree, her thesis being, "The Social Significance of Human Action in Dante's Divina Commedia." Both are members of the Alpha Delta Omega Sorority.

The cheerful presence of these post-graduate students, their great loyalty and interest in college life, their scholarship and ability in research has revealed the higher possibilities of college life to many an undergraduate.

STANLEY HIGH

Song of the Seniors

*In our loved Nebraska Wesleyan,
You may find the college Senior,
Full of wisdom, full of honor,
Loyal to his Alma Mater;
Loyal to her interests ever.
Should you ask me, who this Senior,
I should answer, I should tell you,
He's the flower of Nebraska,
From the river to the sandhills,
From the town and from the country.*

*Should you ask me where this Senior,
Where this loyal Wesleyan Senior,
Where upon the dawning morrow,
Where within the distant future,
He who mastered Freshman Rhetoric,
Much of Science and of History,
I should answer, I should tell you,
To the Northland, to the Southland,
To the East and to the Westward,
To the town and to the city,
Back to nature in the country,
To all counties of Nebraska,
To the western California,
To the southern Alabama,
To the eastern Pennsylvania,
To the northland Minnesota—
To all states within the nation!
If still further you should question,
You should ask, why goes this Senior
To the North and to the Southward,
To the East and to the Westward,
I should answer, I should tell you,
'Tis the calling of the spirit,
'Tis the calling of Nebraska,
'Tis the calling of our nation,
And the bidding of our college.
Now the Senior has departed,
He has gone to the Alumni,
Which shall be his class forever.
You who love Nebraska Wesleyan,
Love the howling of the Coyotes,
Go forth in the world about you,
Bear the message of our college,
Of our dear old Alma Mater,
As this loyal college Senior.*

Junior Class

The class of 1918 is very individual in that it has not followed the usual course of procedure. The unsophisticated freshmen usually enter the realms of activity at Wesleyan with an overabundance of confidence and enthusiasm. But the present Junior class entered calmly—gradually coming to the front—and doing their part to make Wesleyan a stronger and better institution.

Our first efforts were not crowned with success, but we can still distinctly recall the relieved expression on the faces of the Sophomores when they realized that they had finally won the Olympics. This defeat only served as an incentive for stronger co-operation. We have always been represented in college activity and it is of some worth to be a good loser. What is really your opinion of the class that will always do its part whether carrying away the laurels or not?

College Nite might be taken indicative of the progress of the Juniors. Each year we have advanced one step higher toward the final attainment of first place. We are looking forward to our Senior year as the year which will mean the most to us and in which we can realize our fondest ambitions.

We appreciate the opportunities we have enjoyed these three years, valuing the privilege of associations here that would not have been possible in schools presenting ideals different from those emphasized at Wesleyan.

Synhomores

HE: "FAIREST OF THE FAIR-SWELLEST OF THE SWELLS-
CLASSIEST OF THE CLASSES;
FOR YOUR DEAR SAKES I'D GLADLY GO THRU
FIRE AND WATER."
(IF THEY WERE MIXED IN THE WRIGHT PROPORTIONS)

Sophisticated Sophomores

The fall '15 oer' flowed at Wesleyan
With youths from each and every land;
They entered, Freshmen, in this mighty place,
For any future class they set a pace.
We boast, 'tis true, but we had the right
For victories came after a real fight,
We won in Olympics fair and straight,
In basket-ball and in class debate,
In College Nite we were almost there
But tho't Seniors needed a tiny share;
So we gave it them with spirit fine,
Pep! Pep! Pep! is where we always shine!
Thus ended a great and glorious year
And all went home filled with good cheer,
Repeating Caesar's great motto, you've heard,
"We came, we saw, we conquered."

Sophomores we entered, mighty and strong,
Having been gone on a vacation long
Other freshmen came in sweeping hoards,
And in Olympics drew their swords
To slay our pride—a fool's task!
They took the flag. How? do not ask!
Defeat comes before great victory
Class debate, we reveled in its glory!
Like a volcano we now dormant lie,
Next year with great strength we'll again try,
And burst forth on our foes with a din and roar
To cover all past defeat in our swear;
So we go home after another glorious year,
Very joyous, but yet sad to leave here.

D. P. M., '19.

What will my future be?

Freshmen

Class of 1920

And so the verdant Freshman appeared. About as green and about as timid as most Freshman classes and with about usual capacity for tearing down class honors. With a start the invincible Sophomores were convinced in the Olympics of the ability of '20. Celebrating the event, the class 'bummed' that night at Epworth Park and there decided that a long string of scalps would some day adorn the tepee of '20. With our beloved Fresh Rhet we idled the hours away. At the reception given by the class of 1919, in our honor, (or with the intention of aweing the Frosh) we were present in full war enlistment. Suffice it to say that the memory is one that will be aired to coming generations as the one great event of our career. And with each Uni Mixer, confidence grew and slowly the reserve was broken down until now the Freshmen are in line for the impertinence of Sophs next year. But that is not our text. The teams representing the class made their marks. We admit that they were good. The girls took the cake in basket ball. The boys made themselves known in the same sport. Our football machine was grand, but the Sophomores did not care to investigate. And in College Nite we at least had the nerve to put on some real Wesleyan action. Entertaining the Sophs was the height of our ambition ever since entering the path of learning, and so—But isn't it already plain that we are good?

Academy

Principal.....Professor J. C. Jensen
President.....Miss Maude Winfield

AIM. The aim of those composing the Academy membership has been to acquire a practical education which shall make them useful in life and thoroughly prepare them for entrance into college.

CLASS SPIRIT. The class spirit has been of high order and has made possible the splendid organizations and meetings which have been such a help to the students. Loyalty to Nebraska Wesleyan University has been not a duty alone, but a real pleasure to us. The following Academy yell expresses our loyalty:

*Wesleyana, Wesleyana,
Wesleyana, Here's to you!
Always live and always loyal,
Wesleyana Academy, She's for you!*

ACTIVITIES. In sports we have been well represented this year. Owen Steeves was a member of the football team. While only in school a few weeks, he made many friends and was much admired for his sterling qualities. He was taken ill with typhoid fever and died at his home in Panama, Nebraska, on November 3, 1916. George Kroese was a member of the football team. Elmer Grassmueck is a member of the baseball team. The boys and girls both had basketball teams. The efficiency in the girls' team was demonstrated when they won second place in the N. W. U. Basketball Tournament. There will be several Academy students in the track meet this spring.

Miss Maude Winfield and Mr. Clifford Shaub were the presidents of the Franklin Literary Society during the first and second seemsters respectively. The society is for every Academy student. During the year we had "live wire" meetings which revealed splendid talent among the students. The cartoon work of Harold Jones is especially worthy of mention. The parliamentary drills were a source of much pleasure and profit. Many pleasant evenings have been enjoyed. Among these was a visit to Robber's Cave. The party was chaperoned by Miss Booth and Miss Walker. Hot "weinies" and roasted apples were part of the bill of fare. All had a good time.

DISTINCTION. We have found it a distinct advantage to be associated with the college and enjoy its privileges and activities in which the Academy has had a part.

ENROLLMENT. The enrollment in the senior class this year is 22 and in the other classes 38, making a total of 60.

MOTTO. Our motto is "Striving Upward". This year it has signified to us the development of mental, physical and spiritual powers.

YOUNG PEOPLE desiring a thorough practical training will be welcome by the "old" Academy students and will find this an ideal place in which to pursue their studies.

Phi Kappa Phi

Nebraska Wesleyan Chapter

The Phi Kappa Phi Fraternity is a College and Alumni Society composed of the honor graduates of all departments of American Colleges and Universities. Its aim is Unity and Democracy in Education. Its purpose is three-fold: First, to bind the Alumni more closely to Alma Mater; second, to promote scholarship; and third, to promote and foster the principles of true education. It selects the best students from the members of the graduating class each year, therefore it constitutes an honor roll among the graduates of our Colleges and Universities. Membership in this Fraternity has come to be recognized as a distinct honor.

This year is the Twentieth Anniversary of the organization of Phi Kappa Phi. Its membership now numbers more than 3000, and there are organizations or chapters in fifteen different states. It enrolls among its members some of the leading educators, business and professional men of the country.

As a means of encouraging scholarship at the Nebraska Wesleyan University the Nebraska Wesleyan Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi was started through the election on November 13, 1913, of the following Charter members:

Clark Adelbert Fulmer, Chancellor of the University.
Francis A. Alabaster, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.
Frank E. Howard, then Dean of the Teachers' College.
Edgar S. Brightman, then Professor of Philosophy and Psychology.
Elias H. Wells, Professor of History and Political Science.

Each year membership in the Nebraska Wesleyan Chapter is extended to one-tenth of the members of the Senior Class who have maintained an average grade of at least 90% throughout their college course. Elections to membership occur early in April, and formal initiation on the Monday preceding the University Commencement. No one is entitled to the privileges of membership until duly initiated.

The first formal initiation ceremonies were conducted by Dr. L. H. Pammel, Secretary General of the Fraternity, in April, 1914. The officers for 1916-1917 are:

The College Council is a representative body of the College of Liberal Arts, established with a view to student self-government. It serves as a medium through which student opinion may be acted upon for the advancement of college life and ideals.

The Council is composed of twelve members, each class being represented by the president and two other members. Its object is to encourage all forms of student activities, events and demonstrations not provided for in the constitutions of the Forensic Council and the Athletic Board and Musical Synod.

The College Council conducts and supervises the Freshman,-Sophomore Olympics, fall and spring class elections, Home-coming Day, Football Banquet, College Nite, Pan-Wesleyan Banquet, General and Spring election and Arbor Day exercises.

Forensics and Oratory

That Nebraska Wesleyan University has been enjoying a renaissance of forensics and oratory is evident from the list of her activities in this direction during the present year. The season opened with Hero Day, followed by the State Prohibition Contest; next came the annual debates; the season closed with the Extempore Speaking Contest May 4, 1917.

Debating, our greatest feature in public speaking, has assumed prominence to an unusual degree this year. The debates and speakers are as follows:

Nebraska Wesleyan--Dakota Wesleyan at Mitchell, South Dakota, March 1, 1917; team was Schaberg, McBride and High; question was "Resolved, That the United States should own and operate the railways within its borders."

Nebraska Wesleyan--University of South Dakota at Vermillion, South Dakota, March 2, 1917; team was Schaberg, McBride and High; question was "Resolved, That the United States should subsidize its Merchant Marine on the high seas."

Nebraska Wesleyan--Kansas Wesleyan at University Place, March 26, 1917; team was Schaberg, High and Albright; question was "Government Ownership."

Simpson College--Nebraska Wesleyan at Indianola, Iowa, March 17, 1917; team was Spencer, Albright and Worley; question was "Government Ownership."

The final debate of the year was between Nebraska Wesleyan and William Jewell College at University Place, team being composed of Spencer, Albright and Worley, question being that of "Government Ownership."

Nebraska Wesleyan won the Triangular debate with Simpson College of Indianola, Iowa, and Kansas Wesleyan University at Salina, Kansas. The affirmative team defeated Kansas on the local platform by a unanimous decision. The negative team won from Simpson by a two-to-one decision. The other debates were lost.

Interest in the Old Line Oratorical contest this year was not quite up to par but the school had a creditable representative at the state contest in Victor Keiser, who acquitted himself with merit.

The annual Extempore Speaking contest at Wesleyan occurred May 4th, 1917. This is an event that attracts a large audience, because of its great merit, and also because of the novelty of the occasion. Judge and Mrs. A. J. Cornish give gold, silver and bronze medals, and Mrs. Emma Holmes gives the silver loving cup to the class sending the best speaker into the contest.

Last year the gold medal was won by F. C. Mills, Junior; the silver medal by Blake Spencer and the bronze won by Joe Brox.

Both Professor Wells and Professor Venner have labored with untiring and harmonious efforts to push this line of activity, the success of which may be seen in this season's activities and victories. The interest of the student body is manifest in the fact that there have been about sixty students doing active work in forensics and oratory this year. Many friends have come forward with prizes and awards.

The Inter-Collegiate Prohibition Association of the Nebraska Wesleyan University is an organization which has a definite aim. Its purpose is three-fold: (1) To keep before the minds of the people the interests of prohibition; (2) the study of the liquor traffic relative to abolishing it, (3) and the development of the college orator. This year four teams were sent out through the agency of the Y. M. C. A. to assist in the state fight which made Nebraska dry. The association was instrumental in organizing a class in the oration under the head of the English department. There were nine enrolled in the class, and as a direct result there were nine orators in the local contest, the largest number that ever entered a local contest. The course is to become permanent for the training of the college orator. The local contest this year was won by O. W. Low, with an oration entitled "The Challenge of the Brave." The state contest and convention was held at Hastings, Nebr., April 20 and 21. Mr. Low represented Wesleyan, and won second place in the contest. The first place was won by Miss Bowen of Hastings College. Honor was shown to Wesleyan in the election of Mr. Floyd B. Lore as state secretary-treasurer, and Mr. H. D. Shepherd as state reporter.

The Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association is an organization of the girls of the University with the dominant desire of giving every girl a richer, more abundant life through a knowledge of Jesus Christ. Through this organization Wesleyan girls receive spiritual stimulus, intellectual development, social opportunities, personal friendships, and a definite training for service.

The devotional meetings this year have been at the chapel hour on Thursday in Huntington Hall. This arrangement has proved very successful in enlarging the regular attendance.

The Bible and Mission Study classes have been of special interest this year. Dean McProud's class, which was combined with the Young Men's Christian Association, has been very helpful. Mrs. McCaskill has given a large class of girls much spiritual inspiration which has been truly appreciated.

Eight Mission Study classes have been conducted by the leaders chosen from the girls with an enrollment of 60. Because of the girls' interest in our sister college, "Isabelle Thoburn School for Girls," in Lucknow, India, the text studied in class was "India Awakening." Through the Missionary Department $120 has been raised this year, $100 for our sister college and $20 for Foreign Secretary work in China.

The social life of the girls has been fostered in a "Gym Frolic" at the opening of school, a "Y. W. Mixer" and a "Y. W. and Y. M. Mixer," giving each new girl an opportunity to become a part of Wesleyan student life and affording old girls an opportunity to meet the new. The association was also entertained at a reception given by the Misses Grassmeuck. The second annual Membership Banquet was a decided success. The toasts, stunts and yells all centered around our sister college and a closer bond of union was established.

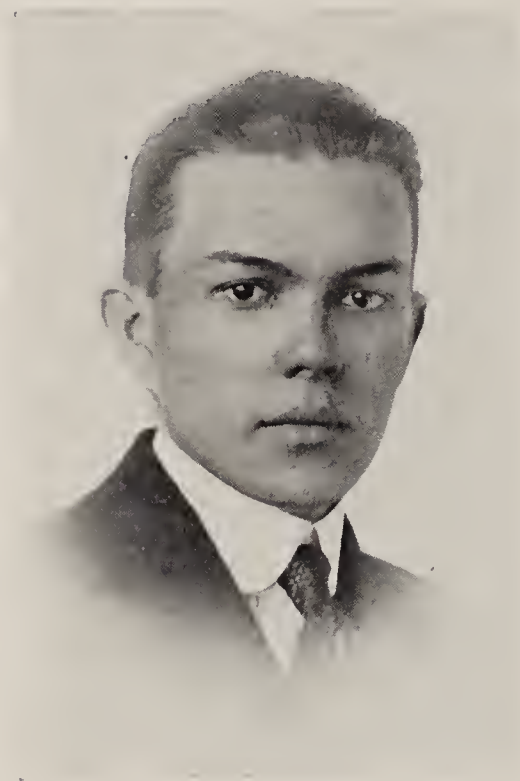

Opportunities for leadership have been given through maintaining a ward at the Orthopedic Hospital and through training for leaders of summer eight week clubs. A class for this purpose has been organized under the leadership of Miss Ethel Rae Robinson.

The employment department has found both piece and regular work for a great number of girls this year, it has been estimated that $640 has been earned by Wesleyan girls through this department.

The high school extension work has been very pleasant experience again this year and a closer bond of fellowship has been established between the two associations.

The co-operation and help received from the advisory board of the association with Miss Mills as its president has been greatly appreciated by the Y. W.

Our president, Minnie Parli, has guided the association through a very successful year and has efficiently led the cabinet in working out definite plans in the various departments.

Young Men's Christian Association

Achievements and Prospects

Several developments this year have served to make the Y. M. C. A. a more efficient and a more vital factor in the life of Nebraska Wesleyan. The first of these has been the full time secretary, who has given his entire time to the problems of the association and whose efforts in connection with the Christian life of the school have been repaid in a great many different ways. The men of the institution feel that Graham has given to each one something worth while and through his influence in the association there will be a greater emphasis placed upon Christian living. Through Mr. Graham's efforts a new plan of organization has been adopted that will undoubtedly render the association much more practical and efficient. The new cabinet has been cut down to about one-third its former size and is the real managing board of the Y. M. C. A. and the idea of reaching the men by means of the promotion force will make possible quicker and more effective work.

The results in every department during the past year have been singularly gratifying. The Handbook committee issued the neatest and most compact Handbook Wesleyan has had for many a day. The finance committee handling a larger budget than ever before came through with flying colors and every obligation has been met with cash. Gospel teams were sent to Martel, Gretna, Nehawka, Tecumseh and Cedar Hill. Besides these several Sunday evening meetings were held in Lincoln churches. In the interest of the prohibition work teams were sent to Ceresco, Seward and Greenwood. As nearly as can be calculated the Employment committee reports its work as follows: Students given work, 70; jobs, 100; valuation of work, $450.00. The Y. M. C. A. has been active in Boys' Work, conducting a number of hikes, etc., for the boys of University Place. The lecture course committee reports a larger surplus for the local work than ever before. The department of vocational guidance has secured speakers who appeared at the regular Thursday morning meetings of the men and who presented the various lines of life work. The prospects for next year are bright and there is every reason to believe that the new cabinet can accomplish even greater things than have been possible this year.

The subjects are primarily people in various settings: a group of people outdoors in the top left; a person in a decorative costume in the top center; a person in a hat and coat in the top right; a person in a long dress in the middle left; a circular portrait of a person in the center; a group of people in the middle right; a person in a long dress in the bottom left; a group of people in the bottom center; and a person in a long dress in the bottom right. The photos are of various sizes and orientations, some showing people in costumes or formal wear, others in more casual or candid settings.

Our Coach

COACH W. G. KLINE

"Our Coach" has a record that will bear contrast with the best in the land and we are proud of him, as a coach and as a man. In all of his years at Wesleyan he has held fast and true to the high ideals of the institution and has made a warm place for himself in the hearts of every loyal Wesleyanite.

Coach Kline has made championship teams out of green material, has placed the name of Wesleyan Athletics high in the annals of fame and has made many true men, who have gone out to bring honor to our school.

BURDETTE GRAHAM

Mr. Graham not only fulfilled his duties as Y. M. C. A. Secretary, but he also found time to spend many hours helping the coach train the men for football. He was an enthusiastic athlete during his own college days and so made an able assistant, especially in developing a strong second team in football and coaching the varsity in track.

Athletics

1916-17 has certainly been an off year for Nebraska Wesleyan University Athletics. The football season promised to be a glorious one at the start, but the deaths of Hinman and Steeves saddened the entire school and took the heart out of the football team. Wesleyan really had a wonderful team potentially but the playing lacked the "zip" that should characterize this sport. As usual the Wesleyan students showed their magnificent spirit in the face of misfortune.

In basketball, although the team beat Nebraska in the second game and won the sixth successive state championship in the association circles, a hard fight was required in nearly every contest. Here again the team showed superb and in 1918 should easily stay at the top.

Baseball prospects are brighter than ever before for 1917. The pitching staff is new but appears exceptionally strong while the infield is the best seen in college circles in some years. The outfield is way above the usual standard and the team as a whole displays a sure knowledge of the game and hitting power.

Unfavorable weather forbids any statement as to track or tennis. Prospects for 1918 are bright and Wesleyan should determine to whip all the opponents in the 1917 schedule including York and Creighton.

W. G. KLINE.

It seems that Wesleyan is beginning to find herself in athletics. It is true that games were lost this year for the first time but the games won do not always prove a team. We have met real opposition from the colleges of the state for the first time in years. This is a good sign. Keen competition always helps athletics and there is not a better thing in the world to develop real sportsmanship. We have several scores to settle next year and present indications are that we will settle them in the right way.

BURDETTE GRAHAM.

THE FIRST GAME—PERU

Peru came to the Wesleyan camp with the full intention of winning, and they came near making good. The game was a slow affair from the Coyote viewpoint and was without features save to show the Coach the weak spots.

SOUTH DAKOTA WESLEYAN

Showing a complete revision of play and with oceans of punch, the team came back and rushed the Dakotans off their feet in the second contest of the season. All were well satisfied for it demonstrated the possibilities of the season.

CREIGHTON

Creighton turned the tables on the team the next week and after three periods of the fiercest kind of playing they made two touchdowns, kicked goal and the game was theirs. The team was about at its best in this game and by all the rules of condition and hard work should have won.

HASTINGS

The Hastings game was played in mud and was anything but a football game. However, the Coyotes were a little more efficient in mud crawling and won out by a wide margin. The Hastings game developed the team a lot in confidence for the balance of the State games.

NEBRASKA

One of the red letter days of the season was the occurrence of the annual game with the State University. The Coyotes were there to fight, and the result was three periods of very even and exciting ball. The Huskers were not at all sure that they had the best of it all of the time at that. Up to the last five minutes of the game the score stood 7 to 0 in favor of the State. The Coyotes were fighting for all they were worth and a little bit of luck came all right but it was on the other side and the Huskers scored two rapid touchdowns on short snappy passes. This game will always mark the fighting spirit of the team of 1916.

MORNINGSIDE

Morningside came on the Johnson field with one of the best teams the Coyotes played against the entire season, and had things pretty much their own way. However, it was one of the best games of the season and was a second tribute to the fighting ability of the team.

GRAND ISLAND

The Baptists were touted as possible contenders of the State honors but not after the game with the Coyotes. The result was 15 to 7 with the Islanders playing a defensive game the entire time.

DOANE

Doane proved the least effective against the Wesleyan offensive of any of the Nebraska Colleges. They succumbed before the onslaughts for five touchdowns all more or less attended by spectacular runs.

KANSAS WESLEYAN

The Homecoming game was scheduled with Kansas Wesleyan and was attended by a large number of Alumni who enjoyed the foot races the fellows made toward the goals. It was not a football game at all, but it did show the possibilities of the Wesleyan interference, the brilliant forward passing and general ability of the team, and one was bound to wonder what might have been accomplished by them if they had had a more even break in the luck that attends every season.

YORK

York College was taken on for a post season game since she had gone through the season like Wesleyan, undefeated. The game was played Thanksgiving day on the York field and resulted in a decided victory for the York men. They were charged with a spirit that could not be defeated and the impetus with which they met the Coyotes gained for them the Championship for the season of 1916.

HUGHES

Two opponents were always delegated to watch Bish. A fine sense of loyalty and love of the game kept Hughes fighting his hardest all the time. He is the type of athlete that Wesleyan should perpetuate and the school owes him a big debt for the standard he has set and maintained.

FETZ

Fetz was the star of the year. He was filling two position and he filled them well. His wonderful speed helped him from center to jump to back guard and his unerring, quick thinking and cool but hard hitting attack featured the season's play.

ANDERSON

ANDERSON

Anderson had the same cool head of last year but not the vim and driving power. Banty's fighting 135 pounds always made him feared and he never quit. A great fighter and a mighty player.

KAHM

COZIER

Cozier settled down into a remarkably clever guard. Fast over the floor the red streak was a cause of work to all opponents. His tireless play and faithful practice while carrying heavy work entitle him to a place with Hughes in the affections of the students and his W. J. Bryan smile has made him famous.

GROVE

Grove is one of the greatest athletes who has entered Wesleyan in five years. His loss, alone, accounts for the loss of every game lost after his mishap at Peru, when the season was just fairly under way. Ted is potentially the best backguard the school will see for some time.

KAHM

Bill Kahm, the fighting Dutchman. His floor work was always a strong point with him, but sometimes he was going so hard and fast he overran the play. Another natural athlete who should figure out improvement methods.

HEFNER

PAYNE

Dean Payne fought York off her feet. He has the right stuff and a spirit that commends itself to every player on the team and to the fans as well. Dean is a real sportsman.

CARMAN

Carman deserves a big share of the credit for winning the championship from York and for beating Nebraska. He is a fine natural athlete but needs careful practice and hard work to develop. He will make a star of himself if he so determines.

BLODGETT

Blodgett used his head all the time. He is a natural guard but played forward because most of the squad were guards. Blodg had to adjust himself to a new set of fellows and new style but he displayed a lot of first class stuff in the close games.

KEESTER

Earl Keester was always ready and willing to hand the first team men the best he had. His strong part was his goal shooting, and his every day practice. No one did more to make big teams at Wesleyan while he has been here and squads need more athletes of his type. He probably never got the recognition and credit he deserved.

HEFNER

Buddy Hefner showed flashes of great basketball. He is a natural back guard but his size almost bars him from that position by itself, and he only tried to develop goal shooting late in the season. In turn the small forward is easily guarded unless he develops a peculiar style that is hard to fathom. Buddy was one of the most dependable men on the squad with a good thinker.

Baseball Squad

FRONT ROW—Kahm, Culbertson, G. Denton, Anderson, Ed. Denton.

Baseball

Baseball prospects for the year of 1917 are about the brightest of any that Wesleyan has experienced. Seven "W" men have responded to the call and they are working together like veterans.

Captain Hudson, Anderson, Fetz, G. Denton, E. Denton, Culbertson and Kahm are the men who have won letters in this game before this season. Holman, Finity, Moore, Trump, Grassmueck and Blodgett are the new men who make up the team.

As we go to press the season has just begun and the type of game the fellows are playing means that without doubt they will repeat the operation of flying the championship flag over Johnson field for the season of 1917.

Track

One Hundred Eighty-five

BACK Row—Dragoo, Taylor, Pierce, Gorham, Carman, Kroese, Klipple, Jewell, Marsh, Peck.

Track

It has become a custom for the Wesleyan Coyotes to carry off the State honors in Track, and this season the prospects are no less bright, notwithstanding the fact that many of the men who held state records were graduated last year.

The Coyotes now hold most of the records that have been made in the state meets, and now has the honor of having in her ranks several men who can be expected to uphold the records of the past.

Captain Haworth, Fetz, Buckner, Gorham, Davis, Embree, Waddell, Jewell, Dally, Carman, Kahm, Blodgett, Ogden are the men who will do the bulk of the work of the team this year. While Fetz is the only record man of the group, there is little doubt in the minds of the student body that the team will be at the top when the last race is run that decides the state honors for the season of 1917.

Grubb

Haumont

McBride

Tennis

The Wesleyan Tennis men have in the past made the most enviable record imaginable, winning all but three matches in ten years of play. At the same time her representatives have met the best of the middle west.

Last year the team met the State University representatives and for the first time in history were defeated. That one defeat has put a peculiar fight into the blood of the men who represent the Coyotes this year and it will never know quit until the record is again retrieved and the State University men again take second honors.

Perhaps the most general interest has been manifested in tennis this year by the whole student body of any of recent years. As a direct result the old courts have been put into first class condition by the Athletic Board and they are in constant use from 5 a. m. till dark in the evenings. The ladies of the University have a club of nearly a hundred active members and they have done a great deal in holding up the interest of the student body in this great game.

Messrs. Haumont, McBride and Grubb constitute the Varsity team and everyone knows their ability to uphold the reputation of the University.

Registration, September 11, 12, 13

"WE" GET ACQUAINTED

On Monday, September 11, registration began. Tuesday the halls were filled with smiles and handshakes and homesick Freshmen. By Friday registration was completed, text books were secured, football spirit was rampant, chapel seats all sold, the Y. M. C. A. stag an event of the past, the Y. W. Frolic for the new girls, a memory, and the college year of 1916-17 was well begun.

The Y. M. and Y. W. Joint Reception, September 15

*I combed the hay off of my face,
And vaselined my hair,
For all the swellest dames in school
Were scheduled to be there.*

*They put a tag upon my coat,
My number twenty-three.*

*Oh twenty-two she was a beaut,
And twenty-four some dame,
But when I got to twenty-three
I found that she was tame.*

*I asked her how the weather was.
She said it was all right,
And then I asked her about the war,
She said it was some fight.*

*We marched around the building,
We wandered in the dark,
I asked her what she thought of that,
I thought I'd made my mark,*

*But when I looked around
To see my damsel fair,
To my great bewilderment,
I could not find her there.*

*I travelled all the way alone,
I drank my punch alone,
I ate the wafers and the cream,
And then I beat it home.*

Chancellor's Reception, September 28

The Chancellor's reception is the second all-University event of the year. It helps us to get acquainted with the Chancellor and the rest of the faculty. It sort of breaks the barrier between the students and faculty and puts them on a common basis.

The guests assembled in the chapel from where they proceeded to the receiving line in the Educational parlor below. From the receiving line they were made at home in Huntington Hall, where the program for the evening was rendered by Professor Kerns, Miss Champ and Mrs. Gutzmer.

HOME-COMING DAY

*Oh day of all the days the best,
You've got something on all the rest,
To tell all about you space prevents,
You are so full of big events.*

At seven o'clock in the morning occurred the annual Senior breakfast. This was a memorable event for the Seniors, one which will long linger with them. Following this was the formal Recognition Services. Raus Hanson was the chaplain of the day. Ralph Schaberg, president of the class, presented the class to Chancellor Fulmer who formally recognized them as Seniors. Then came the welcome to the Alumni guests.

In the afternoon the Home-coming football game with Kansas Wesleyan was pulled off in which Nebraska demonstrated her superiority over Kansas.

In the evening was the annual Football Banquet, Chancellor Fulmer being the toastmaster of the occasion.

Sophomore-Freshman Reception, November 24

*Yes, I went to the Soph reception,
I'll give you a tip on that,
I slated for two damsels,
And one was a maiden fat.*

*The other was a long one,
About six feet and two,
I could not get around them,
I could not get a view.*

*We shook hands with the Moguls,
We shook paws with 'em all,
They sure seemed glad to see us,
The fat one and the tall.*

*It was just like a stuffed date,
It was a stiff affair,
I wondered what we were to do,
I wished I wasn't there.*

*I got them home all safe and sound,
The tall one and the slim one,
But never will I go again,
Until they have the next one.*

The All University Mixers

University Mixers have come to stay. They foster the true democratic spirit which should exist in every University. A University Mixer is just like a bread mixer. It stirs us all up together.

The first mixer was held December 11th, and was a howling success. The program was swell. The Hoffermandshi Orchestra and the Chocolate Quartet were the features of the evening. The pink lemonade had a lot of punch in it, and every fellow who wanted a girl got one and went away happy.

The second mixer was held February 16, and was just as much of a success. The feature of the program was the one-act drama, depicting the daylight robbery scene in which the hold-ups went east and Warren went west.

Hero Day

The annual Hero Day exercises brought out a great audience. The unusual feature of the contest of 1917 consisted in the fact that the speakers delivered their addresses extemporaneously. There were six speakers from the various classes with addresses as follows: Gertrude Robinson, Senior, "Ben. B. Lindsey"; Stanley High, Senior, "William Sunday"; Ruth Needham, Junior, "Alice McLaughlin"; Cora York, Junior, "Jane Addams"; Ernest Spencer, Freshman, "Eugene Debs"; Floyd Lore, Freshmen, "William J. Bryan".

The winners in the contest were Stanley High, gold medal and the Gettys cash prize; Floyd Lore, silver medal; and Gertrude Robinson, the bronze medal. The medals being the gift of Judge B. H. Paine of Grand Island.

The silver loving cup also provided by Judge Paine was presented to the Senior class who were also the winners in 1916.

A most enjoyable feature of the contest was the preliminary musical program provided by the Wesleyan Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. F. W. Kerns, and vocal numbers by the Misses Fulmer, Logan and Ralston.

Day of Prayer

*Just a lull in life's wild bustle
Just a rest from petty care
Earnest thoughts that live a life-time
'Tis our College Day of Prayer*

February first may well be called a red letter day in the 1917 Calendar for it left a lasting impression upon all of us.

Our Day of Prayer was ably led by Bishop Stuntz, the great missionary bishop. Words cannot describe the personality of the man or the depth of his message. When time has taken away the memory of our gayest college frolic, the thought of this our Day of Prayer will be richer and brighter through the years. Time cannot erase Life's truly worth-while experiences.

The Pan-Wesleyan

The eighth annual Pan-Wesleyan Banquet was scheduled for March 15, 1917. The students, in sympathy with the war sufferers of Europe, decided to enter upon a brief period of self-sacrifice, beginning February 26, and to turn all savings into the Belgian Relief Fund. The students are to be heartily commended for the motives which prompted them to include Pan-Wesleyan this year in the list of personal pleasures and luxuries to be sacrificed.

Tickets for the banquet were sold as usual, and all receipts were placed in this fund.

The total amount received from these various sources was $344.72, which was sent to "The Literary Digest" and forwarded to Belgium.

Visitors Night at Nebraska Wesleyan, April 26

The first annual Visitor's Night was a decided success in spite of the inclement weather. Over three hundred people passed through the various departments of the University where many and varied exhibitions of work were on display.

Junior-Senior Reception April 28

The Junior class gave their annual reception to the Seniors on Saturday evening, April 28, at the Rosewilde. In spite of the car strike, the dripping weather and the general blueness, the occasion was a success from every viewpoint.

Extempore Speaking Contest May 4

The annual Extempore Speaking Contest was as successful as has ever occurred in Wesleyan forensics. The open musical program was especially fine. The fourteen world topics discussed were: The World War, Government Ownership of Public Utilities, Immigration, The City, The Rural Problem, World Peace, The Mexican Situation, Prohibition, International Law, America and Preparedness, Conservation of National Resources, Educational Tendencies, Labor and Capital, and Crime. Gregg McBride won the gold medal, his subject being Conservation of National Resources. Walter Day took the silver medal with the subject International Law, and Mabel Roper received the bronze medal, her subject being Labor and Capital.

One Who Was Taken In

I have joined a frat. It is very nice. I have thirty brothers who will stand by me through thick and thin, which I bet they don't.

It is something of an economical proposition. Every college fraternity is based on the theory that thirty can live as cheap as one. Then a house to accommodate thirty is rented. There the thirty become an absolute necessity, and the fraternity starts out frantically to find 27 others to help pay the rent on the big house.

I got in on the 27. I am a rent payer but they call me a brother. We all use the same toothbrush, safety razor, shirts, socks and collars. I think I see a chance to be a parasite. I am going to lose the key to my trunk.

The frat meets once a week. These meetings are more or less of a sacred nature. We burn a lot of alcohol and salt and then drop into an informal discussion of such subjects as how long shall Brother Henshaw be allowed to play the piano at night, and by the way it is not paid for, or is such and such a fellow "our kind". (The house committee reports the amount of rent overdue and we find out that he is "our kind"), how much profanity shall be allowed in the dining room, or how often shall grace be said and who shall say it?

The whole proceeding smacks of a strong feeling of brotherly love.

Then we sing the fraternity song which is the worst thing in the way of national music that was ever invented.

I like my fraternity and I think that it will do me a lot of good. It will teach me how to get along with the human race.

Shirts are not really ironed on our new machine. They are really pressed just as clothing is pressed by a pressing machine. The result is much better both as to finish and to condition. We have also installed a new machine to our collar department to smooth the edges of lay-down collars. This will be a saving on shirts when collars come in contact with the shirt around the neck band. Send us your linen for a trial. When you get it back and you see how beautifully the work has been done we will have made another regular customer.

Opening Discourse

(Heard in any classroom the first three days of college.)

"We are here met students, to study the subject of Paironomics. A few words concerning this fascinating subject would not be amiss. Paironomics is without doubt the most vital course offered in the curriculum of this institution. The reason for this is simple. Paironomics teaches us how to live together, which is without exception the most important knowledge man can possess.

"But Paironomics does more than this. One cannot fully appreciate beautiful scenery without being conversant with Paironomics. One cannot derive the fullest measure of enjoyment from poetry or music without close acquaintance with this branch of learning. In short the aesthetic side of our life is as much indebted to this pseudo—classical—psycho—pathological subject as is the more prosaic but equally important practical side.

"I have not yet touched on what seems to me to be one of the best reasons why a college student should study Paironomics. The study of Paironomics is in itself a pleasure which no one should fail to experience. Here at college you students have little to do. You therefore attempt to enjoy yourselves. What better way could there be to do this than by a close application to Paironomics? I shall then expect very painstaking and thorough work from this class about to explore this fascinating and vital subject."

AN INTERESTING SCENE

Time—12:30

Place—Kosdian sleeping porch.

Hazel (sitting up in bed): "Let's have some windows opened."

Gladys: "That makes too much draught."

Hazel: "Fresh cold air is no colder than any other cold air."

Gladys: "But we can have fresh air without a draught."

Myrtle (after waiting 15 min. for the discussion to cease): "Whenever you people decide what kind of air we're going to have, I'll try to breathe some of it."

PUNCH THE KAISER

*When I get over in the fight
I'll punch the German Kaiser.
I'll smoke the lamps and pull the shades*

*Of that bloody-thirsty guyser.
I do not care to fight the dutch;
They never interrupt;
But I am going in the fight
To beat the Kaiser up.*

*If Germany would make old Bill
Take off his royal crown
I wouldn't need to cross the pond
To knock the Kaiser down.*

*But since Wilhelm has tried to push
The world off of the ocean
And run the globe to suit himself,
I'll have to change his notion.*

*So I am fixed up in the fray
To blood the Kaiser's snout,
The world will always crowded be
Until the Kaiser's out.*

Prof. Bishop: "I should think it would be so interesting for you to sit on the fence and watch the snails whizz by."

Mr. C.: "I would make a dash after Dora."
